Poetry.

My Little Girl.

Small beauty hath this little girl
So dear to me,
But she is heavenly good and sweet
And maidenly.

Her heart's a nest of tenderness
And purity;
And all its passion, all its truth
She gives to me.

From her soft eyes her gentle soul
Beams radiently—
All that I know of hope and rest
Lies there for me.

She is my Heaven, she makes my world,
So dear is she,
That, missing her I could not bear
Eternity.

Millie Dare's Reply to Mr. Boggins.

Dear Augustus Claude:—I was truly overjoyed upon the receipt of your letter to hear that you had emerged from your retirement covered with so much glory, and that through my influence you were already "the acknowledged lion of the town." Allow me to congratulate you on your debut in the society of the fair sex. It is rare indeed that such an apt pupil can be found. Truly you almost surpassed my fondest hopes. O! Augustus Claude, you are so green. Excuse me, Mr. Boggins but you are so delightfully green. Now let me inform you of a few circumstances, and if I disclose some home truths remember that our best friends tell us of our faults.

Before I received your first letter reports had reached me that you were a sensible, sedate, composed, evenly-balanced young man, and that nothing could move you from your particular orbit—business. I rather doubted these rumors, for when I saw you I thought you as conceited and easily flattered as mankind generally; and when I received your letter how I did laugh! Now I had a chance to prove there really was a soft place in your cranium, as I had supposed. Knowing that you would take it literally I wrote you an ironical reply. I laid my plans well. As soon as I finished my epistle to you, I wrote another to my friend Miss Bella Carlton, (you know who she is don't you?) enclosing a copy of my advice to you, telling her various items concerning your appearance and reported habits, and begging her to deal with you tenderly, as you were young, and needed careful handling. Knowing her well, I trusted her for carrying out to perfection the sweet, know-nothing, indolent young maiden portrayed in my letter to you.

More than a week passed on, when came your interesting, gushing, enjoyable, response. You may be sure that I did not even smile when I received it.

Several days came and went and I heard nothing from Bella, when who should spring into my room one morning, but her veritable-self. After I had assured her how glad I was to see her, and had made her as comfortable as was in my power, I said "Bella did you not receive a letter from me about two weeks ago?" With that her voice rang out in peal after peal of laughter, and mine joining hers, for a couple of minutes the apartment vibrated with a perfect chorus of merriment. Regaining her composure, she exclaimed "yes Millie I received your letter and what is more to the point I have seen your protege, the Hon. Agustus Claude Boggins." Drawing my chair still closer to hers, of course I wanted to know all about it. She then related in her own graphic style, the events following the reception of my letter. Now Agustus Claude I do wish I could tell you this, just as she told me, with all her emphasis and merriment preserved, but I cannot do it, so you will have to be satisfied with my rough representation.

"Millie, the next morning after I received your letter, cousin Eva, who was visiting me at the time, and my self called on all the other girls, taking your letter along, read it to them and gave them various instructions as to their behavior should Mr. Boggins honor them with his presence. Such fun as we did have, as we made out the list of what we should say and what we should wear! The first did not take long to decide about, as we were only to smile and look bewitching most of the time, only talking when we thought we could show especial ignorance, or when we could make ourselves appear particularly silly; but the last question was a subject of serious consideration.

"It was about the middle of the afternoon when we returned, and wonder of wonders, what should we see but a note from Mr. Boggins requesting the pleasure of calling that evening. The fates seemed to have chosen us as the first witnesses of Mr. Boggins in his new character, and we intended to astonish him. We commenced our toilets immediately, for we had a great work before us. I heard many sounds of mirth issuing from Eva's room during the progression of her toilet, which I was often obliged to pause in my preparations to give vent to my feelings. You know Eva has such magnificent dark hair, and mine is my boast and only vanity, but instead of dressing it as usual, we took extra pains for such a momentous occasion, and manufactured huge chignons, braiding part of our hair, and curling the rest. They were monstrous I confess, but when I saw his costume I was comforted. I interupted her here saying "O! Bella Dear, I know all about your personal appearance for I received a letter from friend Agustus Claude, and he favored me with a telling delineation of your style of dress and his own as well as of your conversation." "O! do let me see it," she cried, and of course I handed forth your effusion with as much haste as possible. I saw her lip rather curl while reading the first part of it, but when she came to the description of your "make up," her mouth gradually relaxed from its scornful curve, the saucy dimples began to show themselves in her cheeks, and finally little bursts of merry laughter rose and fell louder and louder till she leaned back in her chair almost exhausted. "O! said she," it was too comical. If you only could have seen him Millie. It was so funny. When he was in the midst of his most eloquent and expressive quotations, with his organs of vision starting from their sockets, and his body twisted in the most approved tragical attitude, little chuckles of suppressed laughter would run through me, for I could not help thinking of his boots, as I knew his contortions of person and feature were more directed to his poor abused appendages than to any concordance with the sentiments so melodiously flowing from his lips. His words were exceedingly full of feeling. Do you doubt it? I would not dare imagine that his immaculate suit of clothes were uncomfortable. No indeed; though from the furtive glances directed towards them I should imagine he had not been used to—well—quite such tight ones in common. His moustache was as he says super-fine. You could count about six young tendrils on each side which looked as if they had been under hot-house culture for a somewhat lengthy period. When I described him as my sweetheart he blushed to the roots of his hair, an expression of terror flitted over his countenance, he moved uneasily in his chair, and I really believe he thought my next movement would be to spring into his arms, which might have resulted in the entire destruction of that irreproachable shirt bosom so ostentatiously displayed, you know. Don't laugh so, Millie dear, it is not good for your constitution, I am sure." "But Bella, read the picture of your appearance, and see yourself as others see you, for once." Her bright face bent over the paper for a few moments, and when she uplifted it an odd expression was manifest there. Said she, "the painting I positively deny but I would like to know if there is so very much difference between coloring one's cheeks and dyeing one's moustache. I think trying to sail under false colors is as detestable in one sex as in the other. Mr. Boggins must have spent his deep-seclusion in a rather strange manner, it seems to me. I did not know before that secluses from society understood the merits of "Bloom of Youth" or could enlarge upon such an intricate matter as "the systematic arrangements of "Tribune's" "Herald's" "NORTH CAROLINIAN's, etc."

Laughing heartily I said, "do tell me about this Mr. Jones. I think he must be a curiosity as Agustus Claude describes him in such glowing terms. I did not think that this rising nineteenth century could produce such a phenomenon. I imagined such bright examples of the "human form divine" belonged to the times of Agustus Claude's mother and grandmother."

An amusing smile played about her mouth as she thus answered me. "I saw a very common-place, amiable young man, who seemed to be struck dumb with consternation or fear for he scarcely spoke the whole evening. If he possessed even an ordinary share of intelligence, it seems to me he might have seen through the farce we were playing, but he certainly deserves our pity as he cannot yet raise a moustache.

"That Shakspearian quotation amused Eva and I more than a little. In your letter to Mr. Boggins I was surprised to see that you neglected to instruct him on the use of the personal pronoun, but he seemed to know all about it, by intuition, I presume. He had been expatiating on "what I said" "what I did" "what I know" when all at once with out the least warning he quoted that sentiment ending with "the observed of all observers." I acknowledge I was dull enough to suppose he was still talking about himself, and thought how true that last line would be in his case, for the next few weeks. I glanced at Eva and saw her face twitching and quivering with suppressed emotion, and I was obliged to diligently study a pattern in the carpet, in order to restrain myself. We almost forgot the part we were playing, but Eva quickly recovered herself, and performed her role beautifully. I then managed to make a suitable remark. He found out during the evening, that whenever he paid me a compliment I returned it with compound interest, so he persevered nobly in that part of his conversation. Finally they departed assuring us they had spent a very pleasant evening. (We knew we had.)

"The next morning we paid the girls another call, and gave them a faithful picture of our evenings entertainment. Scince that time Mr Boggings has been regularly visiting the other ladies and according to his own account has been treated in the same manner by all.

"Now Millie don't you feel some compunctions of conscience for adding another simpleton to the already superfluous number?" I quickly replied "no, I do not. As he was such a silly fellow as to follow those directions, let him suffer the consequences. I'll write and tell him everything relating to the affair." "But Millie" she expostulated, "he will get provoked with you." I replied if he does he will only show himself more foolish than I take him to be. He should rather be incensed with himself for following such outrageous advice, and I think if he studies the matter over he will come to the same conclusion." After due consideration she assented, and you behold the result.

Friend Agustus Claude I told you that I had a "model" from which I gave you the instructions in my former letter. You no doubt have seen many of the species ere this, for one cannot mingle in society to any extent without observing some of these "exquisites" who imagine themselves the delight and admiration of every one, and who have the idea in their heads that ladies must hear little but "sweet nothings" most delicately and elaborately expressed.

Dear Agustus Claude! perchance you will say this is a queer way for me to treat my friends, but I always like to test those who profess esteem for me, and see what metal they are of. It was a severe trial I know and though you did not came forth "pure gold" still I think you posess many excellent qualities and if you will place yourself under the care of some good sensible woman (and I have evidence that you can be guided by a woman) you may yet be an ornament and example to your sex and generation.

Miss Bella is going to visit me for a few weeks. Come and see us and bring Mr. Jones along, and perhaps each of us will have better ideas of the other if we allow ourselves to be viewed from a higher stand-point than a polite parlor conversation, with all its glamor and sham on both sides.

Miss Bella joines me in my regards to you and says if you will come and leave your tight boots and nonsense at home she will so deport herself as to give you no cause to commit "the unpardonable sin of blushing."

Hoping we shall soon see you I am,

Truly Your Friend,

MILLIE DARE.

Manure is rarely made as fine as it should be in order to get out its fertilizing powers. If applied in a coarse condition, only a very small portion of the soil is affected by it, because it does not come in contact with it. If it were as fine as powder spread over the land and minutely worked into it, much more effectual results would follow.

The True Physician.

BY JOLLY JACK.

In point of usefulness, the true physician stands second to none save the minister of the Gospel. Hand in hand, they visit the house of the suffering and the sorrowful; the one administering to the temporal, the other, to the spiritual wants of humanity. Surely, when such benefactors are laid beneath the silent tomb, the cheering light of their meritorious services will shed a rich halo over their last moments; and when the laurels of the victors shall have faded and the deeds of the renowned are effaced from the record of time, their works of love and charity will ever be fresh in the memory of the just and indelibly written in the hearts of the good.

The medical profession is frequently underrated. Like most others, it has been abused by empyrics. A true physician will maintain the dignity of the profession. He soars above those low tricks and devices which characterize the empyric. That man is not a true physician who does not, on all occasions, "maintain a high personal honor and integrity." The true physician has the boldness to stand by the truths of his profession, without fear, affection or the hope of reward, whether their legal results shall "acquit the lowly or condemn the mighty to the penalty of the law." Here we see the integrity of the true physician shining forth in its brightest effulgence. You never hear him at the street corners or public places "blowing his own trumpet," thinking to catch, by such a bait, the weak and credulous who are easily entrapped by the enticements of "medical demagogues."

Ingratitude is frequently the reward of his labor. If you wish to see benevolence, characteristic of a true physician, in its most effulgent light, go to the cellars or garrets of our cities, hear the groans of the poverty stricken; there you see him endeavoring to alleviate their pains. Go to the hovels of the suffering poor in the country; there you find the "blessed foot-prints" of the true physician. Although unseen by the world he is there, scattering with a liberal hand, the soothing influences and blessings of his humane and noble calling. It is his delight to relieve their sufferings.

He stands at the pestilential couch, a noble sentinel, endeavoring to avert the approach of "the remorseless king of terrors;" to catch the first ray of hope and seize upon the first favorable opportunity to interpose a soothing remedy. He risks his own life, defies the very vapors of death, to rescue suffering humanity from a premature grave.

After enduring all of the toils, the labors, the struggles, the tortures, and almost rushing into the very jaws of death itself for the rescue of humanity, base ingratitude is frequently his remuneration. After he has rescued his patient from an untimely grave, he is too frequently poorly paid and unrewarded by those for whom he staked his life; and sometimes accused of being actuated by no higher motive than that of worshiping the God of Mammon. Ungrateful humanity. What a sad illustration of "man's inhumanity to man." We read of the resignation of Job under his severe afflictions, and of the long-suffering and charitableness of christian men, under rights withheld and injuries inflicted; but where, oh! where else will you find so much unrewarded labor, such goodness, such charity, as you will find in the daily rounds of the true physicians Who, for a moment, can doubt the nobility of such a calling! When such a philanthropist goes to his final rest, his memory will ever be cherished by humanity. He leaves something behind him more than a mere name. He has erected a monument to his memory more lasting than brass, and more sublime than the regal elevation of pyramids which neither the fleeting shower, nor an innumerable succession of years, and the fight of reasons shall ever be able to impair or demolish.

Miscellaneous.

A Glorious Record.—Twelve years ago a few modist lines in a New York Journal invited public attention to a new Vegetable Restoririve, and solicited a trial of its merits as a remedy for indigestion, biliousness, fever and ague, debility, nervous disorders, rheumatism, and all complaints requiring invigorating and regulating treament. In this quiet, unpretentious way, Plantatation Bitters was introduced to the world. It was a success from the beginning. All that was claimed for it as a tonic, a corrective and antidote to malarious fever, was found to be strictly true. Within five years the anual sales of this article amounted to over One Million of Bottles. A few years more and the demand had swelled to five millions. The anual consumption of the bitters has now reached the almost incredible aggregate of six millions of bottles, and for every bottle sold a copy of the Illustrated Medical Annual., published by the proprietors, at a cost of $150,000, is given away.

The Vice-President of the Columbus Convention, H. H. Day, warns the Labor Reformers against accepting or trusting Judge Davis as the candidate of the party for the Presidency. In a circular, sent to the country at large, he chsrges that Judge Davis is false to the principles embodied in the Labor platform and disloyal to the cause of the workmen in failing to indicate whether he accepted the nomination tendered him at Columbus: "Over 35 days have elapsed—sufficient to have more than this little nothing at all to have been said, and I hold it self-evidence that this is not the manly way of meeting the compliment thrust upon him by so earnest a party of men holding such positive principles, as ours, which are not only the bone and sinew of the nation, but the base and foundation of the republic. The Columbus Convention—every man in it who acted in good faith—expected the committee to notify candidates, to act promptly and publish the answer officially. The Committe had no right or authority to make bargains or arrangements; their duty and authority ceased with the simple performance of the one act."

The Democratic World calls the abolition of the tea and coffee tax "the free breakfast table folly." It is in favor of reducing the tax on iron, but opposed to abolishing it from the poor man's cup of tea or coffee.

Hon. John Pool.

This is as true to-day, as when the great poet penned it. The firm undeviating and patriotic course of a public officer in no security from the assaults of hydra headed treason.; it does not relieve him from slander and base misrepresentation, but on the other hand, his upright career opens upon his deovted head all the viol of vituperation and detraction; all the shafts of malice and hatred, are let loose gainst him, to drive him from his paths of rectitude and honor and paralyze him in his efforts for usefulness. Look at the vindictiveness af the Ku Klux press in this State; their rancour and malevolence knows no limit, and stoops to vilest artifice and falsehood, striving to ovtlive each other in malignity. Tho true patriot, philanthropist and lover of his country stands undismayed and unmoved amidst the general jargon of these jackals. In such a man we behold the noble Senator from North Carolina. Slander and libel, implicable, redemptionless libel, has been vomited upon him, but it could not prostrate or harm him one iota. Bold and lofty in his proud pre-eminence, he stands invulnerable to the envenomed daggers of the foe. He has contributed much to the strength and stability of the government, and when those political fiends, that plagued the people with hellish tortures were executing their bloody commissions, he to the rescue and there was an awful reaction; the tide turned and burst over the appalled assassins, striking terror into their hosts, and scattering them like chaff before the wind. When all else on the floor of the Senate chamber paused and hesitated, our Senator alone grappled with the foe, and to him belongs the honor.

"He did exalt
His generous aim to a diviner deed,
And thro' the mists of passion and of strife,
He held his course unfaultering while the voice
Of truth and virtue, up the steeps ascent
Of nature, calls him to his high reward—
The applauding smile of Heaven."

The hope of the State is firmly fixed upon him, and the good, the virtuous, and those who desire to see a reunited nation passing on to its destiny of greatness and glory, rise up trumpet-tongued to proclaim his praises. Let all the region kites rail on, let the combined power af all the klans hurl their darts and javelins at him, it will avail them naught; they will only show that "the tree that bears the choicest fruit is the most pelted at."

A Remarkable Man.—Death of a Singular Personage in Washington County—Living Under Difficulties.

From a Washington county (Pa.) paper we obtain the following account of a rather remarkable man, Mr. William W. Hawthorn, who died at his residence in Millsboro, in the county mentioned, a few days ago. At the age of thirteen he was afflicted with rheumatism, which affected his extremities so severely as to deprive him of the use of both legs and also his right arm. His feet were drawn up against the thighs, and his right arm and hand contorted into everything but a natural position. The flesh on these limbs gradually shrivelled away, while his head and body continued to grow into all the proportions of a well-developed man. For the purpose of locomotion he was placed in a box, in which, constantly lying on his back, he attended to all kinds of business for the last sixty years. He acquired a common English education, and taught school for a number of years, and at the time of his death was serving his seventh term as a justice of the peace, having acted in that capacity for nearly thirty-five years. He used the pen with his left hand and wrote a very accurate and legible hand. In 1853 he was awarded a contract for carrying the United States mail on the route between Pittsburg and Waynesburg, and also another route, which we have forgotten, and at the expiration of the first term he was awarded the contract for a second term. He kept a number of horses and faithful employes, but he superintended the whole business himself, frequently driving in a one horse spring wagon to Pittsburg, Washington and Waynesburg, with only a small boy for company.

At the age of twenty-three or twenty-five he eloped with a Miss Wilson, and was married without the consent of her friends; but she being of suitable age for matrimony, no trouble ensued. His wife proved to be a valuable helpmate for a man in his pecular situation, and as time sped away she bore him twelve or thirteen children. He possessed an iron will and almost an iron constitution, and by dint of indomitable energy and economy he accumulated at various times quite a respectable amount of property. Compelled as he was to remain continually in a recumbent position, he wrote with his paper placed across his breast, and by the necessary habit of keeping his head raised upward and forward the muscles of his neck acquired sufficient strength to enable him to hold his head in that situation for hours without apprent fatigue. Being a native of Washington county, and for many years intermixed with a very large amount of public business, he will be long remembered as one of the most remarkable men of the day.

The Toledo Blade announces that a large number of Nasby letters may be expected between now and November. In a private note to the editor, the parson uses this language: "I shall hev to use your collumns verry liberally hereafter, ez this Presidential election is uv vital importance to me. The post office is at stake, the Cabinet posishuns is at stake—in fact, everything, includin my supply uv likker, is at stake, and I shall take off my cote and go into this campane with all the vigger and energy of my yuthful daze."

The Maine people are telling great stories about their snow blockade. No such drifts have before been seen in that State for eleven years. The European and North American Railroad Company suffered more than anybody else, perhaps, for their trains have been unable to get through for ten days, and some of their passengers have suffered great inconvenience by the delay. Their loss is estimated at $25,000.

A worthy deacon in a town somewhere or other gave notice, at a prayer meeting the other night, of a church meeting that was to be held immediately after, and unconsciously added: "There is no objection to the female brethren remaining!" This reminds us of a clergyman who told in his sermon last Sunday of a very affecting scene, where "there wasn't a dry tear in the house!"

Seeing the Point.

A boy returned from school one day with a report that his scholarship had fallen below the usual average.

"Well," said his father, "you've fallen behind this month, have you?"

"Yes, sir."

"How did that happen?"

"Don't know, sir."

The father knew it the son did not. He had observed a number of dime novels scattered about the house; but had not thought it worth while to say anything until a fitting opportunity should offer itself. A basket of apples stood up on the floor, and he said:

"Empty out those apples and take the basket and bring it to me half full of chips."

Suspecting nothing, the son obeyed.

"And now," he continued, "put those apples back into the basket."

When half the apples were replaced the son said:

"Father, they roll off. I can't put in any more."

"Put them in, I tell you."

"But, father, I can't put them in."

"You can't? No, of course you can't put them in. Do you expect to fill it with apples? You said you didn't know how you fell behind at school, and I will tell you. Your mind is like that basket. And here you have been the last month filling it up with chip dirt—dime novels."

The boy turned on his heel, whistled and said, "why! I see the point."

Not a dime novel has been seen in the house from that day to this.

Other and older persons might well see the point.

Which Did They Do?

Last summer during the Convention campaign Democratic members of the General Assembly assured the people that in case Convention was voted down they would be forced to resign their seats, levy a tax of $50 on each $1,000 valuation of land, or perjure themselves.

Did any of them resign? Only three, and the people elected Republicans to fill two of the places. Did they levy the $50 tax on each $1,000 valuation of land? They did not.

The question recurs: Did they perjure themselves, or were they only trying to frighten the people by telling a bare-faced lie?

If they perjured themselves sooner than resign, are they worthy to be longer trusted?

If they deliberately told a falsehood to frighten the people into the support of an unconstitutional measure, are they fit to be trusted?

Take either horn you choose, gentlemen.—Era

A lonely pioneer writes as follows from La Corna, Wyoming: "I sincerely wish that many hundreds of old maids and widows who can not get husbands at home would come out here, where they could speedily get a choice of good, honest, hard-working men, who could make them comfortable and independent. There are, I really think, five men here for one woman."

A person having been mentioned who had been notoriously unfortunate in his first marriage relation, and yet had soon afterwards married again, was asked if it was not rash to embark anew in an adventure which he had already found to be so disastrous. "No," said the philosopher, elevating his head, and his countenance glowing with enthuisasm, "it was the triumph of hope over experience."

Which is the nobler occupation—to spend one's life in ministering to the intellectual development and culture of man, or to prepare tempting and nourishing dishes for his stomach? There is very little doubt as to which is more highly appreciated. President Eliot, of Harvard College, receives a salary of $4,000 a year. and the head cook in one of the Boston hotels is paid $4,500.

A lady of Skohegan Village, Me., the other evening entered her house and stepped upon the furnace register for the purpose of warming her feet, when the whole apparatus gave way and the lady fell through the floor, catching only by her arms and shoulders. Fortunately her husoand was in the room, and supported her until assistance arrived and she was lifted out by main force.

A maiden lady who had once been jilted wrote her own epitaph as follows

"Here lies the body of one
Who died of constancy alone.

For this disease is not contagious!"

The revelations of Tammany Hall are so tantalizing that many a petty Democratic knave is signing:

I want to be a rascal,

Friday last, says the Roanoke News, was a day long to be remembered in Murfreesboro. A fire occured at Colonel U. Vaughan's at 3 P.M., and had it not have been for the energy and daring displayed by the citizens a large amount of property would have been destroyed. Cause of the fire, accidental.

Sterne says, in his "Sentimental Journey," that as long as he was in love he found himself incapable of a mean action. What a pity that some of our rich men could not be kept under the influence of the gentle passion for at least one week.

An ingenious Chicago lady has made $17,000 out of the relief fund, by personating the "forlorn maiden," "lone widow," "wife of a sick husband," successively.

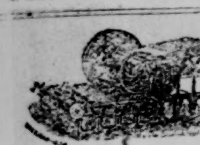

A lady on being asked by a gentleman. "What do you hold on the question of female suffrage?" shrewdly replied, "I hold my tongue."

National Republican Convention.

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION will be held in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, the 5th day of June, 1872, to nominate candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.

PROGRESS IN AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture in this County and District is about taking a "new departure. A hopeful spirit is being infused among our farmers and a feeling aroused to catch up and keep abreast with the progress of the age. There is a desire gaining ground to know more, to investigate and compare notes. We are more than gratified to realize that this is true—that the seed sown by the NORTH CAROLINIAN during the past three years has taken root and is bringing forth fruit.

It cannot be disputed that there is no occupation so important, so independent, so elevating and ennobling, when pursued intelligently, as that of the farmer. It is the basis of commerce, and the supporter of the arts and sciences. None of the occupations of the civilized world compare with it in real value to mankind. When intelligently and scientifically pursued, as is more and more the case, it opens a scope for the exercise of every human faculty. Already the forests have been cleared, the surface skimmed and the way prepared for the gradual introduction of a higher system of culture. We are beginning to pass from the muscular system of agriculture to the brain system. Machinery is taking the place of and aiding muscle, and we are beginning to demand more intelligent help than would once answer the purpose of the farmer. Aye, we are making progress.

OUR POSITION.

The political status and position of the NORTH CAROLINIAN is known of all men. There is nothing equivocal, no dissembling, no doubt about it. It ever has been and remains true to the interests of the great party which has made the principles of the Declaration of Independence living realities; the party that has shown itself capable of solving problems which for a century had baffled the wisdom of the nation's most finished statesmen; the party which is committed to every principle of progress and reform,—in short, the party which has cut loose from the errors of the past and is destined to control the affairs of the government for the next quarter of a century.

Aye, we stand by that party because it has safely conducted the nation through the perils of a period fraught with the most frightful dangers, and its policies alone can preserve that peace and security so essential to our material prosperity. Without its continuation in power we have no guaranty for the future. For if Democracy with all its attendant evils be allowed to prevail, there is nothing but uncertainty before us. And this being so, it seems to us that the duty of the intelligent citizen is plain, and that is to co-operate with the party which has been tried and not found wanting.

WHINING.

There is a class of people in this world—and it is by no means a small class—whose prominent peculiarity is whining. They whine because they are poor; or if rich, because they have no health to enjoy their riches; they whine because they have "no luck" and others prosperity exceeds theirs; they whine because some friends have died and they are living; they whine because they have aches and pains, and they have aches and pains because they whine, and they whine no one can tell why. Now we would like to say a word to these whining persons. First, stop whining. Its no use, this ever complaining, fretting, fault-finding and whining. Just reflect a moment. Do you not know—and you should know it if you don't—that it is a well settled principle of physiology and common sense that these habits are more exhausting to nervous vitality than almost any other violation of physiological law? And do you not likewise know that life is pretty much as you make it? You can make it bright and shiny, or you can make it dark and shadowy. Determine that so far as you, kind reader, are concerned it shall be the former.

The disappointed politician is an old customer and the people all over the country have learned his tricks. Whenever defeated he bolts. When he is refused all the offices he wants he will do or give almost anything for revenge. But it won't avail. The lines of the Republican party must remain unbroken.

A Connecticut Democrat promises to eat two quarts of dried apples if Jewell was elected.—Exchange.

His patriotism is of the swelling order. Wonder how he feels by this time?

CAUSE FOR REJOICING.

Republicans have just cause for rejoicing in the grand success of the Administration of President GRANT—rejoicing in the fact that domestic peace is promoted and maintained; taxation lessened, revenue collected, the public debt honorably recognized and greatly reduced by honest payment; its interest lowered by the application of efficient financial skill; economy begun and hopefully established; agriculture, manufactures, commerce, literature, science and education stimulated; justice and humanity extended towards the Indians; a foreign policy inaugurated exhibiting the grand spectacle of the foremost soldier of the land advising the settlement of disputes by enlightened reason rather than by the sword—averting the calamities of war, and the disturbances in trade consequent upon apprehensions of its dangers; and all the arts of peace cultivated, multiplied and invigorated.

WHY ARE TIMES HARD?

People talk about hard times, and well they may. An exchange ventures a few plain words on the situation, and here they are for the benefit of our readers: "We are fast becoming a nation of schemers to live without genuine work. Our boys are not learning trades; our farmer's sons are crowding into cities, looking for clerkships and post offices; hardly one American girl in each hundred will do housework for wages, however urgent her need; so we are sending to Europe for workmen, and artisans millions' worth of products that we ought to make for ourselves. We must turn ove a new leaf."

A correspondent writes:—"I have vainly endeavored to ascertain the ori gin of the saying; 'If the mountain will not come to Mahomet, Mahomet must go to the mountain.' Can you enlighted my ignorance"? It is said that Mahomet first declared his system of religion to the Arabs, they demanded proofs of his miraculous power, such as Christains claimed for Jesus and Moses. Mahomt replied that it would be tempting God, and provoking His wrath, to grant their demand. Nevertheless, he commanded Mount Sofa to come to him. Of course it didn't. Whereupon he exclaimed: "God is merciful! Had it obeyed my words, it would have fallen on us to our destruction. I will therefore go to the mountain, and thank God that he has had mercy on a stiff-necked generation."

The prospect continues to brighten. The tide of victory rolls resistlessly on. In Conventions, State after State endorses the Administration and at Elections they support and sustain it. Look at Connecticut—it responded with increased emphasis to New Hampshire. This always close and doubtful State inspires and encourages the country with a brilliant Republican triumph. Here, as in the Granite State, the lesson is unmistakable—here as well as there we have made significant gains. The Presidential struggle opens with the most auspicious omens. Surprising and splendid as was the general record of 1871, the year 1872, in its initial contests, far outstrips and surpasses it.

The New York Sun has been running a "muck" during the past month, and breaking things like a bull in a China Shop. Having failed ingloriously in its attempts to break the "Third Avenue Savings Bank," though it caused the poor people of New York a world of anxiety and suffering, it has since denounced the Secretary of the Navy as a robber, accused the Philadelphia Press of venality, cast suspicion upon the officers of the Philadelphia Mint, and attacked the State officials of Pennsylvania. It has thus staked its future reputation on the hazard of a die, and it must now prove the serious charges it has made, or this brilliant luminary will go out in utter darkness.

It is reported that Senator SUMNER is taking the sober second thought. Having heard from New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island, and having read the opinions of the patriotic press from Maine to Texas and from Cape Cod to the Golden Gate, and more recently learning that his own Massachusetts has endorsed the renomination of Gen. GRANT, he has decided to make no further opposition—nay further, if the National Republican Convention puts up GRANT's name as the standard bearer of the party in obedience to the voice of the nation, he will lend his exertions to secure his election.

The battle for Republican supremacy, for the supremacy of law, order, honesty and economy—the fruits of the terrible struggle through which we have recently passed—is soon to be fought in North Carolina. In preparing for the contest there must be wisdom in council, and above all, unity of purpose and action. As the ambition of all cannot be satisfied those who are good Republicans—we mean Republicans from principle and not for office or gain, will cheerfully acquiesce to the will of the majority.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania have nominated two of our warm personal friends for important positions—Gen. HARTRANFT for Governor, and Hon. ULYSSES MERCUR for Supreme Judge. In the resolutions adopted they not only expressed devotion to the principles of the Republican party but declared a belief that its continuance in power is necessary for the success of its principles, and then nominated President GRANT for reelection.

Mexico is affected with chronic convulsions. That is what is the matter with her. But the remedy for her disease appears to be beyond the skill of man. There is much talk of the United States undertaking the treatment of the case. It might be well for her but bad for us. We are to love our neighbors as ourself, not better. And our fear is that if we undertook to heal Mexico we should get convulsions ourselves.

The United States District Court—Judge BROOKS presiding—was opened at this place on Monday. Several important cases are on trial. The following is a list of the Jurors summoned:

New Books, Periodicals &c.

A very valuable number of Hearth and Home for April 20, is before us. Besides several fine engravings, and the usual good assortment of excellent reading for all departments of the household, a Supplement in this number gives an account of a four years' Libel Suit brought against the Publishers for exposing Humbugs, in which the important rulings of Judge Brady of the N. Y., Supreme Court, and the testimony of of leading physicians, take advance ground in regard to the responsibility of manufacturers and dealers in patent medicines. This will be specially interesing, not only to Lawyers, Physicians, and Druggists, but to all who buy and use medicines, and to those who have been swindled by humbugs. A prominent features, however, of this number of Hearth and Home is the New Story by Dr. Eggleston, author of the "Hoosier Schoolmaster." The new story is entitled "The End of the World," illustrating life and scenes in the West thirty years ago. It is confidently believed that this will be one of the most attractive and useful American Stories yet brought out. Correspondence.

Cobb for Congress—Chamberlain for the Senate.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

I feel that it is time every man possessing any patriotism at all should now bestir himself in behalf of the great and fundamental principles of the Republican Party, and to assist in bringing before the public such candidates as will thoroughly canvas their districts and draw out the entire strength of the Republican party. Therefore for our Congressional and Sentatorial district, I have made for each a selection for the respective offices of Congressman and Senator and I feel assured they will receive not only the hearty support of the Republican party, but hundreds of honest and fair minded Whigs who are now in the Democratic ranks. My selection is one that cannot be impeached. I have honor, talent and honesty combined. Hon. C. L. Cobb my choice for Congressman is a representative in every way worthy of his truly noble position and the most gifted and honored representative from the Old North State. During his public life he discharged his duty with unflinching firmness and unquestionable purity of aim and ambition. He won his way to his present distinguished position by earnest labor, by diligent and comprehensive study and by the force of an indomitable will which enabled him to surmount every difficulty which beset his youthful pathway. In every public effort he did his best to promote the interest of his constituents and to subserve the ends of truth and justice and by his conscientious performance of public affairs made for himself a reputation which has never been surpassed for fidelity, devotion, ripeness of culture, breath and clearness of view, forensic strength and solidity, fertility of resources and lofty aspirations. From the outset of his public life down to the present time, he accepted all engagemens however humble and trivial in appearance which were deemed in themselves and in their objects just and honorable, and through all his active life he has been guided by his conceptions of right and justice. "An earnest Republican, a faithful representative, vigilant in looking after the interests of his constituents, he has proved himself to be the right man in the right place," therefore taking in consideration his fidelity to his constituents, his fitness and ability for the position, I am constrained to ask the question why should he not be renominated? Let every honest Republican exert himself in his behalf, and we the Republicans and Whigs of Camden county will give him one hundred majority in August next. Into the particulars of his remarkably consistent as well as successful public life I need not now enter. Suffice it to say he is my choice.

Hon. J. L. Chamberlain my choice for Senator is a high-toned gentleman of extraordinary talent, possessing all the attributes of a statesman, scholar and orator. He is recognized by both parties as one of those men unfortunately too few in number who know their duty and conscientiously and thoroughly discharge it. He is one of the first intellects of the east, vastly popular with personal acquaintances and his friends by the thousand. It is needless for me to say more, whether he be a candidate or not, the Republicans this side of Chowan river will have an opportunity to hear him and know for themselves that as a public speaker he has no superior. He will receive a large vote from the old line whigs and to say that the republicans will support him is superfluous. With C. L. Cobb on the right wing and J. L. Chamberlain on the left, we will beat the democratic nominess ignominiously.

Yours,
VOMIS.

South Mills, N, C., April 13th, 1872.

Col. John H. Wheeler, the historian is at present engaged in the revision of his history of North Carolina. His well known ability and freedom from bias, will be a sufficient guarantee of its excellence and reliability.

A Canadian editor announced that "he had a keen rapier to prick all fools and knaves." His contemporary over the way said he hoped his friends would take it from him, for he might commit suicide.

The Light House at Body's Island, N. C.

Body's Island, N. C., April 12th, 1872.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

This place, as perhaps most of your readers are aware, is situated between the Atlantic Ocean and Pamlico Sound—about midway between, being one mile from each. It is about ten miles below Nag's Head.

The work on the Light House is going on. The foundation of granite being completed, the brick work was commenced on the 7th ult. The brick work is now built up 15 feet; and considering the very bad weather which has prevailed along this coast for such a long time, that is doing remarkably well.

The brick work of oil house, which is attached to the tower, is finished; and when the oil house is entirely completed, that alone will be a model of superior workmanship.

Mr. Dexter Stetson, the superintendent of construction, superintended the building of Cape Hatteras tower (the grandest in America); and having had so much experience in building towers, this one cannot be otherwise than a sure success.

After the tower and oil house shall have been finished, or during the completion of same, dwellings for keeper and assistants will be erected.

SAILOR.

Encouragement and Cheer.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

It was with feelings of pride and pleasure that I read in your very valuable and interesting paper the unanimity and enthusiasm that pervaded your county convention which assembled a few days ago, and the endorsement you gave those tried and true Republicans in the National Halls of Congress from the 1st District of your State. I consider no meed of praise from the hands of the people of their native State too great to bestow on these gentlemen, the manner in which, during the darkest hours of our Nation's history, when the throes of a gigantic rebellion rocked this country from center to circumfrence, when it required all the moral courage and heroism that a man could command to withstand the strong tide of secession which swept with unmitigated force upon every Union man, these two men, faithful to the teachings of those principles promulgated by a Clay and Webster, have stood firm and true.

Since their elevation to seats in the Nations council, they have battled faithfully for their constituents, maintaining their rights in every particular, and even while the dark cloud of Ku Klux Democracy hung like a death pall o'er your State, corrupting every avenue of political interest of the State, and stagnating every principle of Republicanism within her borders, they had the boldness and courage to introduce a bill in Congress known as the Ku Klux bill, the result of which is fully appreciated by every Republican in North Carolina and the South.

Therefore, I consider it the duty of every lover of good government and the Republicans of the first District to lay aside all petty quarrels, and at your next District Convention unite upon Hon. C. L. Cobb as your, candidate reelect him by a large majority, so as he may appreciate your confidence in his integrity and worth, and at the same time his usefulness and influence as a member of Congress will be greater than heretofore, thereby doing more good and greater service for his friends than any new man you can elect.

It was also gratifying to read that your Convention was addressed by the Hon. J. L. Chamberlain, a State Legislator from the once good old Whig County of Camden, one who has ever since the war closed affiliated with the Democracy, but on this occasion had the boldness and moral courage to come out openly and proclaim that the scales of Ku Klux Democracy had fallen from his eyes, and identify himself with the Republican Party, I truly think Mr. Editor, that the Republicans of the first District of North Carolina should congratulate themselves upon the acquisition of such a man to their ranks, believing as I do, that his political influence will create such a howl among the Democracy that will cause many old Line Whigs to fall into line and march under the banner of freedom justice and equality before the law.

It is equally gratifying to hear you speak so hopeful of the state of feeling manifested throughout the entire State, and the determination to be victorious in the coming elections. It seems to me, in order to do this effectually, and silence forever the Democratic Party, you must select such men in your County Conventions for the Legislature, as will reflect credit on the Party, secure peace and harmony in your ranks, men of honesty and integrity, faithful to the great principles which should govern and actuate every lover of freedom, and then with a bold and determined front at the ballot box, you can gain a Republican Legislature, which would be equivalent to the reelection of Hon. John Pool to the United States Senate, the brightest star in the political horizon of North Carolina

PHIL.

Washington, D. C., April 13th, 1872.

From Tyrrell County.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

For two weeks prior to the 30th ult., notice appeared in every Township, and three in the city of Columbia, one that a son of Exculapius of Elizabeth City, would speak and strike radicalism some Herculean blows; but the embodiment of law and physic did not put in his appearance. One, that a young and distinguished Senator of Plymouth origin would address the people upon the subject of Medicated cloeina paper; he did put in his appearance and was in a suffocating condition in twenty minutes on the modus operandi of this representative article, and based it with Littlefield and Swepson sauce, and then called upon the democratic vampyres of mythology to fasten and gorge themselves.

Last though not least, artful dodger Mr. Speaker per diem and flapped his right wing and with a loud voice cried out, "these United States does not belong to Grant, the offices thereof, do not belong to him either." Lo! What a grand discovery never before made by Statesmen whose equals will scarcely ever live again, and has taken ninety six years to find it out. The last was calling the people together to appoint delegates to the convention to be held at Greensboro. This meeting was one hour and a quarter long, during which time three speeches were made, committee appointed and resolutions drawn. Ah! they were drawn before the meeting was called. So you can well imagine the length of the speeches of these modern Cæsars, especially the dissertation upon highly medicated paper medico modus operandi, and particularly the revealing of this grand discovery of the United States and its offices did not belong to Grant and wound up with a tirade of billingsgate upon Judge Watts.

But there is another I like to have forgotten. I beg his honor's pardon. A son of the Ammonites who spread his wings and soared away to ancient Romen and Greece, and the last we saw of him he was trying but failing to light upon the seven hills. Unsatisfied curiosity induced us yesterday to enquire after this young Ammonite, and was told he was still trying to light.

COTTON TAX.

As but few persons understand the provisions and objects of the bill introduced into Congress proposing to refund the cotton tax, I have obtained a copy of the bill and given the same a careful consideration.

By this bill a commission is created with power to demand all the books, papers, receipts, etc., etc., in the hands of any present or former agent of the Government, and also to summon witnesses, administer oath, etc. These provisions are intended to enable the Commission to inform themselves as to who paid the taxes,—when, where and how, and to force officials to furnish that evidence. Having fully and entirely procured all the evidence possible, they are directed to award the same to the parties who are justly entitled to it.

Now as every one knows that this tax was paid exclusively by the people of the South, and mainly by the planters and freedmen, it is perfectly obvious that these provisions were intended to protect that class, and to lay a foundation for the future prosperity and happiness of the Southern people without regard to color and in the interest of the entire country. The people of the South have not had their due share of banking capital, for the want of which every interest is languishing. If Congress passes this bill, tax claims are to be paid in bonds. In other words this bill gives the needy people of the South a sum equal to the amount proposed to be refunded as banking capital, which they have not got, and which they sorely need.

NAVY YARD ACCOUNTS.

Yesterday in the House something of a damper on Investigation was received in answer to Mr. Beck's buncombe resolution calling for an account of proceeds of sale of Naval property, etc. The denouement of this political effort is a commentary on the folly of universal investigation with which partisans employ the time and money of the people preceding a Presidential election.

The secretary transmitted a statement, with bureau reports in detail, summing up as follows: The balance to the credit of the department on July 1st 1865 was $22,408,990 65, to which sum was added the appropriation for the fiscal years 1865–69, which was $119,882,928 78. Total available for the year $142,291,910 40. But of this sum only $43,324,526 42 was expendid, and out of the balance remaining and the subsequent balances $74,027,765 45 has been covered into the Treasury. The sales of property amounted to $12,923,419 out of which sum $1,922,222 was used for repairs, etc. So that it appears that out of the appropriations over $74,000,000 has been refunded; and out of the proceeds of sales of arms a sum of over $11,000,000 has been refunded. The communication was referred to the committee on naval affairs.

LIBERAL DILEMMA.

The New York Times pushes the Liberals into a very tight place when it says: "Two facts are obvious with reference to the management. One is that it depends absolutely for its success on a combination as necessarily fatal to any reforms which its authors may seek."

Another element of disintegration and disappointment at the fiust gathering of the heterogeneous clans consists in the fact just fairly announced by father Horace that, first, the liberal Republicans is to manage the convention and second, that he will not stay with it if protection is not one of the planks of its platform. What will be left for the states rights free traders it is very hard to discover, and to suppose that Democrats will fall into this line, without division, is to reform human natures beyond all bounds that have ever yet been discovered in history. There is a grand reckoning without their host by these Cincinnati advocates of an immediate millenium.

INDIAN REPORTS.

Very lengthy dispatches on the subject of Indian Affairs are just received at the Interior Department, from the vicinity of Fort Laramee. They contain indications of a restless and dissatisfied spirit on the part of the young men of the Tribes, and Red Cloud is reported to have been insolent and disposed to be troublesome.

The Action of the Farmer's Club.

A special meeting of the Farmer's Club was held in the Court House, in Elizabeth City, on April 10th, 1872 at 4 o'clock P. M. W. W. Kennedy in the chair. The object of the meeting was explained to be to confer upon the expediency and practicability of inaugurating an Agricultural fair at this place this Fall. Maj. F. D. BUNNELL, of Wellsboro, Pa. being present, was requested to address the meeting. He responded in a sensible and practical speech. Having purchased a large amount of property here and proposing to soon locate among us, he said he now felt that he was identified in interest and feeling with the people of Elizabeth City and Pasquotank County. He had long been connected with Agricultural Fairs, and in his graphic way he furnished proofs of their wonderful effects in stimulating and educating the industrial interests of a country—building up towns and developing communities. Addresses were likewise made by Dr. R. K. Speod, Dr. P. John, J. M. Wheedbee Esq., Col. W. F. Martin, Dr. W. Underwood and R. B. Creecy Esq., A subscription paper was started and about $2000, was subscribed for shares of stock. On motion by Dr. Underwood, a committee consisting of Dr. W. Underwood, Geo. W. Charles and W. A. Price, was appointed to call upon our citizens and solicit subscriptions.

Congress.

On the 8th ins., in the Senate, a number of bills from the Military Committee were passed.——In the House, the bill for the establishment of postal cards was passed. The bill revising the Coinage laws was discussed.

On the 10th inst., in the Senate, the message of the House, returning the Senate Tariff bill, was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The Indian Appropriation bill was passed——In the House, the bill abolishing the franking privilege was discussed and recommitted.

On the 11th inst., in the Senate, the Diplomatic Appropriation bill was passed. Another Conference Committee was appointed on the St. Croix Railroad job.——In the House, a bill was passed regulating the transportation of live stock. The Civil Service regulations were discussed, and the appropriation for carrying them out largely reduced. The Foreign Relations Committee reported in he case of Dr. Houard.

On the 12th inst., in the Senate, a bill was introduced to amend the Pacific Railroad act.——In the House, Civil Service reform was defended by Mr. Garfield, but the friends of the Administration reduced the appropriation for that purpose to $10,000. A resolution was introduced calling for information concerning the Mexican outrage on the Rio Grands.

On the 13th inst., neither House in session.

On the 15th inst., in the Senate Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, introduced a bill that no money shall be paid from the proceeds in the treasury of any captured or abandoned property without a special appropriation hereafter to be made therefor.

In the House the harbor bill, which appropriates $5,000,000, was passed. It gives $155,000 for the mouth of the Mississippi river; $15,000 for the Calcasien Pass; $6,000 for the Tehefunete, and $2,500 for the Zangipahoa rivers.

Land and Building Associations.

The principle of Co-operative stores, manufactories &c., is very generally understood, but the class of corporations which heads this article, are very little understood, notwithstanding they offer very superior inducements to any other style of mutual or co-operative companies. Especially to the working people in receipt of wages or a fixed salary.

It is virtually a mutual saving's bank, where each depositor is entitled to a pro rato share of all the profits. There are no preferred class of stockholders as in ordinary Saving's Banks, who give depositors from four to six per cent. of their earnings, retainings the balance themselves. The rate of interest usually realized in these associations is from eight to ten per cent., and varies according to the premiums received; the whole amount of interest being equally divided among the depositors, all of whom are stockholders.

A prominent feature of such associations is the privilege accorded to members of borrowing money, in amounts proportioned to the number of their shares of stock, on remarkably favorable terms. This enables a poor man to become the absolute owner of a house in from six to eight years, by the payment of monthly installments, which in most instances do not exceed the amount which would be charged for rent of the same property. Men who desire to borrow moderate amounts of money either for the purpose of purchasing or building a house, find a great advantage in the possession of stock in these associations.

They are no experiment in this country, having been in existence upwards of forty years.

There is at present upwards of $25,000,000 capital, invested in these associations, in the city of Philadelphia.

We are glad to see that the people all over the State are interesting themselves in this matter, and can assure them, that they will contribute largely to the industry and wealth of the laporing classes.—Newbern Courier.

General Summary.

The Iowa House of Representasives on Tuesday passed a bill totally abolishing the Death Penalty' by the decisive vote of 66 Yeas to 22 Nays.

Abraham Lynn, age 27, was murdered at Stoner's Mill, Md., recently, and his body robbed of $800. Lynn was running the mill, and the body was found in the sink of the mill, with the skull frightfully mangled with a crowbar.

A lady of Boston seeing among the religious notices that a certain clergyman would preach "D. V." said at once that she would go and hear him, presuming, as she did, that the subject of the disconrse was "Dolly Vardens."

An old lady gave this as her idea of a great man: "One who is keerful of his clothes, don't drink spirits, kin read the Bible without spelling the words, and eat a cold dinner on Wash-day without grumbling."

A young wife on being lately aked what she should do in case her husband failed, replied, "Live on arms, to be sure. I have two, and he has two, with hands at the ends of them." We will venture to say that that couple will never fail.

Louis Napoleon is said to be growing more and more confident of the ultimate restoration of his line. Should the French throne be regained for his boy it will be be the first instance since 1643 in which a French sovereign has been succeeded by his son.

A destructive fire occurred in Halifax on Wednesday, burning down some six buildings on Main street. It originated in the ginning establishment of Messrs. McMahon & Smith, adjoining the store of these gentlemen, some five of the adjoining houses being burnt with it.—One man was hurt.

Judge Gillespie, of Illinois, writing on business to parties in Washington makes a remark worthy of Mr. Greeley's attention. He says; "I am for the renomination and reelection of Gen. Grant. I am for the one term principle when we have a bad man in office, and the two term principle when we have a good one."

An English gentleman has leased a water lot in Pilatka, Fla., for ten years, with the design of putting up a moss and paper factory. The moss will be manipulated into such things as hair-cloth, &c. The paper mill is intended to manufacture paper out of the common saw palmetto. Paper made of this matirial is now used by the Bank of England for bank notes.

Philadelphia, April 15.—The grand jury this morning found a true bill on the indictment against Chas. A. Dana, of the New York Sun, for libel on Wm. H. Kemble, ex-State Treasurer, for an article published in the Sun relative to the Evans frauds.

The three Charity Fairs in New York will keep all the fashionable ladies in the city active during April. Eli Perkins says: "All the pretty girls will be out, and all the fellows worth a cent won't be worth a cent when the Fairs are through. They'll give all to Charity."

Governor Jewell has received the following from the President: "Governor Marshall Jewell: Accept my hearty congratulations for the indorsement Connecticut has given you for past services, and for her unshaken confidence in the party of freedom and progress.—U. S. Grant."

The Fayetvill Eagle says that tea plants are shipped from Fayetville. Mr. J. M. Smith raises enough for the use of his family, and several others cultivate it to some extent. This tea is perhaps not so fine as that raised in China, but it has a freshness and delicious flavor that tea shipped across the ocean has not

The famous bell that fell and broke in the Chicago fire has been made up into little bells and sold as toys, and it is now said that 300,000 bushels of bells have been made out of it, and there is enough of the metal left to cast a new bell twice the size and weight of the original. It is a wonderful story of a bell well told.

The Pope has refused to receive a sum of money which was offered him by the Italian Government. His Holiness, in declining the gift, declared that when it became necessary for him to accept alms as a means of maintaining a substinance, he would only receive them from the Roman Catholic world.

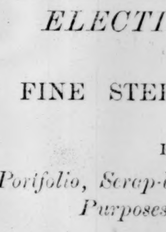

The celebrated Dr. Barnes, being inclined to sleep during a dull sermon, a friend who was with him joked him on having nodded now and then. Barnes insisted that he had been awake all the time. "Well, then," said his friend, "can you tell me what the sermon was about?" "Yes, I can," he answered, "it was about an hour too long."

According to the report of Secretacy Robeson the United States navy now consists of 179 vessels. Of these 150 are steamers; 53 vessels, mounting 691 guns were in commission on the 6th of Dec. last, and 6 more were reported as nearly ready for sea. The iron clads number (on paper) 25 vessels of the monitor class. Of the rest, 17 were undergoing repair, 13 were on the stocks, never having been finished, and many others were laid up, not worth repairing, having been constructed of improper timber.

The Boston Bulletin has the following valuable list: "Methuselah died of liver complaint. Lot's wife of salt rheum. Absalom fell a wig-time to hairysipelas. Goliah died of the stone. REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

FOR MAYOR.

C. W. GRANDY, Jr.

FOR COMMISSIONERS.

JABEZ PRITCHETT, S. S. FOWLER,
C. W. SMITH, JOHN JAMES,
CHARLES S. DAVIS.

☞ B. F. JENNINGS sends us a stalk of wheat measuring 2 feet 8 inches. Who can beat it?

☞ The Concert in Clark's Hall this week was a grand success. Particulars next week.

☞ Eureka Lodge A. Y. M. will be opened for Instruction on to morrow, Friday evening.

☞ A number of our Democratic exchanges are urging the name of our townsman Col. W. F. MARTIN for Lieut. Governor.

☞ Our esteemed friend GEO. D. POOL Esq., left at our office, on the 12th inst., —seven days ago—a pea stalk in full bloom.

☞ Those of our Town Subscribers who do not get their papers promptly and regularly will confer a favor by reporting the fact to us without delay

☞ We call special attention to the Card of our townsman J. M. MATHEWS, Watchmaker and Jeweler. Patronize him for he is a capital good fellow.

☞ We have had pleasant calls from a number of friends from different parts of the District who are attending Federal Court this week. They bring us cheering reports.

☞ A veteran observer very pertinently says: "I never place much reliance on a man who is always telling what he would have done had he been there. I have noticed that somehow this kind of people never get there."

☞ Hon. J. W. ALBERTSON will accept our thanks for a copy of the "Journal of the Proceedings of the United States Centennial Commission at Philadelphia." The Commission is now organized and in a working condition.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals during the past week we notice B. HOSLER, from Carlisle, Pa.; N. S. KENYON and S. N. KENYON, from Ithaca, N. Y.; MILTON EVES, from Millville, Pa., and Mr. FISHER, from Northumberland, Pa.

☞ Among the wisest sayings of honest ABRAHAM LINCOLN was that "when a man gets the buzzing bee of office in his ear he can hear nothing, see nothing, and think of nothing but how to get and how to stay there." Can't some of our readers point the moral?

☞ Hon. Judge POOL has resigned his Judgeship of this District, his resignation taking effect on Tuesday. His successor has not yet been appointed. Judge POOL stands very high. He is conceded to be one of the most popular public men in Eastern Carolina.

☞ We learn that the law requires every voter within the Corporation limits to be registered ten days before the election. The Registrar will sit at the Mayor's office from Saturday next to the Thursday evening following, from seven o'clock A. M. to six o'clock P. M. See to it that every voter is registered.

☞ Letters of inquiry addressed to us, and not accompanied with the writer's name or address, receive no attention. Criticism thus sent to us is wasted. Scores of letters would be answered by mail, if the writers had the sense to add their addresses. No matter what the subject or object, all anonymous writing goes unread into a convenient waste-basket, which is always crying give, give, and never says it is enough.

☞ The local ticket formed by the regular Republican Convention is a good one. There being three elements of the Republican party here—the Northern, the native White and the Colored, it was deemed fair and just to have each equally represented on the ticket. Hence the reason for selecting two from each element of the party. The ticket is a strong one. It is pledged to reform, improvement and progress. It will be triumphantly elected.

☞ We love flowers. We encourage their cultivation. We believe they help to educate, elevate and refine those who work among and habitually behold them. They teach us a lesson in religious faith, and proclaim the goodness of their Creator:

"God might have made the earth bring forth
Enough for great and small,
The oak tree and the cedar tree
Without a flower at all—"

but he has scattered flowers everywhere from the burning tropics to the frozen regions which border the polar seas——

"To minister delight to man,
To beautify the earth——"

☞ It is well known that Dr. UNDERWOOD did not desire a renomination for Commissioner. His business is of that character making it a great personal sacrifice for him to fully perform the duties of the office. He has handed in a Card to the Executive Committee, requesting them to substitute another name in his stead on the ticket. Judge POOL, on account of pressing business engagements, has done the same. Both cordially endorse and support the ticket. The Executive Committee have filled the vacancies by selecting the names of JABEZ PRITCHETT and S. S. FOWLER. Better men could not have been selected.

☞ The editor of the NORTH CAROLINIAN, among his many other virtues, possesses that of modesty—at least so much of it as to make it impossible for him to publish all the flattering letters sent him eulogizing the course and conduct of his paper. That they are gratifying and encouraging to him he don't pretend to deny, especially so when in the tone of a prominent public man residing in a distant part of the State who writes:

"I like your editorials. They are terse, earnest, aggressive, and perfectly in harmony with the spirit of the age."

But to publish them all would savor of vanity and egotism, and from an undue amount of either, good Lord deliver us! Kind friends, we thank you! Your words of cheer strengthen us to keep on in the path of duty.

☞ While the contest here on the Mayoralty and City officers is purely local its influence is felt over the County and District. The integrity and best interests of the Republican party requires that a ticket regularly formed must be supported and sustained, and especially so when the ticket is a decent and unexceptionable one. Such a ticket floats at our mast head with the name of C. W. GRANDY, Jr., for Mayor. He is a good man and an earnest and devoted Republican. The colored man has no better friend—none who more willingly defends their cause. When the Constitution guaranteeing them the rights they now enjoy was threatened last summer he responded to their call, met the champion of Democracy and defeated him! The colored men know they can trust him, and as he has been fairly and regularly nominated they intend to vote for him. Every true Republican will rally around the regular nominee.

☞ A few Republicans, exasperated over their defeat in the regular Convention on the 9th inst., called a meeting that night and put another ticket in the field. They published their proceedings in poster form. The City Republican Executive Committee have replied in a circular, giving a plain statement of the facts. We refrain from indulging in any denunciatory remarks as we have a hope that after sufficient time for cool reflection these men, for whom we have a warm personal regard, will realize the mistake they have made in going outside of the regular organization and placing themselves in the position of bolters. This is dangerous—it won't do. It is making a precedent that will be used to justify a similar course by those who are disappointed in important Conventions soon to take place. Republicans! insist upon it that the regular ticket shall be sustained.

☞ By the proceedings of the "Farmers' Club" published in another column, it will be seen that active steps are being taken to open an Agricultural Fair at this place the coming Fall. From the interest manifested we feel assured that it will be a success. And it should be. It is among the most important movements yet inaugurated for the progress and development of this section of the State. It will not only tend to give an increased impetus to Agriculture, but it will benefit Horticulture, Floriculture and the Mechanic Arts—embracing every industrial interest of all our people. The influence of Fairs, properly conducted, is both to stimulate and educate. But to make this one the grand success it ought to be and can be made, it must have the active cooperation of all our people. Let them advocate it—talk for it on every proper occasion; let them work for it, and above all let them respond willingly to the appeals that will be made to them by the Committees that have been authorized to solicit subscriptions. We shall have much more to say on this subject in future issues as it is one in which we feel a deep interest.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder—"of somebody else," adds a young lady friend of ours. A lawyer is like a sawyer—because which ever way it turns down must come the dust. The largest room in the world—the room for improvement. Receipt for rosy cheeks—out door exercise. The ugliest hood ever worn—falsehood. To be taken without shaken—a hint. Pleased—the Democrats, at the "bolter's" movement. Walking more erect than usual—the chap who was straightened by circumstances. Peeping through the surface—the early planted potatoes and corn.

Business Locals.

Capt. John Palin is having good success at the Creecy Fishery. He sells as cheap as the cheapest. His price for Herring is $4 per thousand. 42—tf

A. E. Jacobs, of the firm of Lowenburg & Jacobs 35 Market Square Norfolk Va., returns thanks to his North Carolina friends for their liberal patronage. He hopes to receive a continuance of the same. His motto is to please.

One of the most popular places ot resort in the city is the Eating Saloon of J. D. Fulmer's on Water Street. All who depart go away "well satisfied."

A Card.

The placing of our names as candidates for City Commissioners on the ticket formed at the Bolter's meeting on the night of the 9th inst., was without our knowledge or consent. And we shall have nothing to do with the disorganizing movement; but will support the REGULAR TICKET put forth on the after noon of said day.

MARRIAGES.

WELLMAN—MARTIN—On the 14th of April, 1872, at Bairdsville, Va., by Rev. A. Paul Repiton, D. D., Mr. LEONARD B. WELLMAN, of Elizabeth City, N. C., and Mrs MARY V. MARTIN, of the former place.

THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostettr's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is no the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy district that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precaution, are prostrated by the disease how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepia, of liver complaint, of, constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility yield to the operation of the famous remedy how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are alway ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent oprations.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

A New Theory of Orch rd Culture.

Mr. Meehan, editor of the Gardener's Monthly, who is not only a scientific botanist and horticulturist, but close and careful observer of nature, says: "Nearly twenty-five years ago we found that the root fibres of trees were only annual—like the leaves they died every year. In 1853 we published it as a fact; we have fought it through until we believe it is now accepted as scientific truth. They have the same relation to the main roots as the leaves have to the branches, except that while the leaves are the preparers of the food—the cooks—the fibres are the providers—the husbandmen of the cooks. Just as the branches are of use only as supporters of the leaves, which, like the ancient rib of Adam, are formed by morphological laws out of tree bodies; so the main roots are only of benefit in so far as they afford the material out of which fibres are formed, to hold the tree in position, and possibly, in a very small degree, to draw in moisture. Remembering this, now take up very carefully a young tree, and we find that the fibres are nearly all on the surface, and that they decrease in number and importance with every inch of depth. In the the largest trees scarcely a fibre will be found one foot from the top, large roots—tap roots—you may and will find, but no root that is of the slightest benefit to the nutritiou of the tree. How then a tree can be benefitted by the destruction of the large army of agricultural laborers, toiling at the surface to maintain the growing nation thriving in its many industrial occupations above them, we do not understand."

Mr. Meehan therefore advocates the nonculture of the orchard, allowing it to grow up to grass, in preference, though mulching to prevent the growth of grass, is better.—Rural Carolinian.

Rust in Wheat.

"R. M. Y.," of Abingdon, Va., writes to the Southern Farm and Home:

"While I do not claim to have discovered an infallible cure for rust in wheat, I believe I have found the means of preventing rust in four crops out of five, perhaps more. You remember how destructive rust was to the last crop in nearly all the wheat producing sections of the South. I raised as fine a crop as ever I did in my life, and I am an old farmer, while all my neighbors crops were ruined by rust. I attribute my escape entirely to the fact that I top-dressed my wheat in March with wood ashes, putting on about twelve bushels to the acre. I got the idea from some northern publication, (I forget the name) which recommended ashes not only as a preventive of rust but as the best manure for growing wheat. My experiment was so successful that I mean to top-dress my crop this year if I have to buy and haul the ashes."

Use of Sulphur in Nests.

The powdered sulphur sold by druggists is a cheap preventive of parasites upon young chickens. After a hen has been setting till well established, sprinkle a small handfull upon her eggs when she is off, and upon every part of the nest and for a little distance all around it. Then when she goes on disturb her just enough to make her bristle her feathers, and then dust another handful down to skin upon her head, neck and every part of the body not in contact with the nest, and do not omit to put a pinch under each wing. Then when the chickens are hatched there will be no vermin whatever to leave the hen and gather upon the young, as is frequently the case when no precautions are taken. One thorough application such as we have described will suffice.—Rural Home.

Deep Planting of Trees.

In a paper purporting to be record of practice, recently read before the Vermont Agricultural Society, the writer states that he commenced the planting of trees thirty years ago, and followed public directions to dig wide and deep, and fill the hole when planting with fine rich loam, but that not having time to complete his whole planting after the supposed best manner, he planted many trees by simply digging off the top soil loosening the sub-soil, thus saving a vast amount of labor, and in reality placing the roots of the tree in just as good position for growth as those in the dug holes. From the first, he says, the last planting made equal growth with the first; and while the first planted were continually blowing over, and to-day not one stands erect, his last planting are all upright and have never required care.

"Cows that kick when milked," are easily cured of the troublesome habit by throwing the harsh old rope away and using mild moral suasion, without which no animal of either the equine or bovine genus was ever properly trained for any purpose. With balky horses and oxen, in nine case in ten, the whole fault is in the driver, and the remaining tenth could be traced back to former owners or trainers.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman had four horses that contracted the habit of crib-biting. He painted the woodwork of the stable with crude petroleum, and was amused by the grimaces of the animals over the smell and taste, but rejoiced that in his case it effected a cure.

A cow owned by a resident of Addison, Me., recently died, it is said, in consequence of eating straw that had been taken out of a bed which had been slept on during the sickness of a person who died of dipteria. She had every symptom of the disease.

A correspondent says he feeds his stock on a teaspoonful of sulphur to each animal, with their salt, once in two weeks. When he has done so, no vermin has troubled them, and his diary cows have not been affected with garret, nor his sheep with grub in the head.

PREVENTING IRON GARDEN TOOLS FROM RUSTING.—It is said that if iron garden tools are laid for a few minutes into a solution of soda, they will be protected from rusting for a long time, even if exposed continuously to a moist atmosphere.

Mr. Allen Evans, of Charleston South Carolina, says the cultivation of sea-island cotton has become so precarious from uncertainty of labor and want of capital that it must be superseded by some other crop.

The Canada Farmer mentions $700, as having been realized by a person near Chatham, as the proceeds of hay and clover seed, raised from fourteen acres of land, or $50 per acre.

California bred horses, it is claimed, are proving superior in speed, endurance, and general good qualities, to the best raised in the Atlantic State or Europe.

A man who sailed round the world and carried a Philadelpha newspaper in his pocket, said it was the most widely circulated journal published in America.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOG

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility and durability of soil, no section can equal.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, a dall in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses. all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church. school-house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store honse and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front. permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished. modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268, 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front. and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 150 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildinos wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles t rom Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Billious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

HORNER'S

MARYLAND

SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

(We court the Chemist's inquiry.)

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilizing business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of his Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and every way worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "MARYLAND" is a juvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients, with a very liberal per centage of Potash in the residum. There is no adulterator nor inferior article used—every particle of the Phosbhate being of essentiay benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay.

For Cotton, Wheat and Corn, and as a general stimulant and ailment for worn and impoverished land there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphata than any other fertilizer in the market.

Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery.

BONE DUST $45, BONE MEAL $50, DISSOLVED BONE $42, our own manufacture, in new bags; Eastern and Western BONE DUST $35. PERUVIAN GUANO delivered from Peruvian Government Warehouse at lowest rates. No charge for delivery.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN

TOBACCO SUSTAIN

AND LAND RENEWER.

The Sustain is a specific restorer of the exhausted properties of impoverished and over strained land, and will generously repay the cost of its outlay in the quality and quantity of the Tobacco Crop, besides permonently improvinn the soil and raising it to its virgin standard.

It gives vigor to the young plant, promotes its rapid growth, and insures, in the matured crop a thickened, heavy leaf.

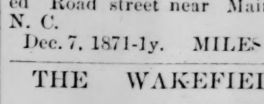

It is prepared similarly to the Maryland, except that it contains mach more potash and other Tobacco forming properties.
